Dear Parents

Year 12 IB Theatre trip on Thursday 29 April 2010

I have booked a small number of seats for the Year 12 IB group to see 11 12, a play directed by Peter Brook, who has been the focus of our recent work. This is a performance adapted from a West African story and has many cultural aspects which will be of particular interest to IB pupils. Pupils who are unable to take part in the trip should try to make alternative arrangements to either see this production or another piece of documentary theatre.

We will be leaving school at the end of the school day and returning at approximately 23.00. We will travel by school minibus. The cost of the trip is £25.

Pupils should bring with them enough money to buy an evening meal and a programme. There are several restaurants and shops in the area by the theatre and there will be plenty of time for them to eat before the performance. It is helpful if they bring a mobile telephone to contact you in case of delays on the return journey. They may wear their own smart clothes on the trip.

If you need to contact me during the trip I can be contacted on 07919956484, except during the performance itself.

Yours faithfully
