Dear Year 9 Parents

Medical Conference for Year 9 Potential Medics/ Veternarians

I have received some information from a company called Medlink about a one day conference for parents and pupils in Year 9 who may be interested in a career in medicine or veterinary science.

As you will be aware these are extremely competitive career areas and the conference is designed to give them a competitive edge and to give parents an early opportunity to have an active role in helping their child to prepare for applications.

The day will include practical sessions, the chance to speak to current doctors, vets and students and all aspects of preparing for and applying courses at university. Pupils must be accompanied by a responsible adult. The cost is £25 for a student place and £5 for the accompanying adult. There is one conference in Nottingham on Saturday June 19 and a second one in London (NW1) on Saturday 26 June 2010. This is not an organised school trip and it is envisaged that parents will accompany their own child to the conference. The day runs from 10 am to 5 pm.

If you would like to find out more about these conferences the website is www.medlink-uk.org and the email address medlinkX@workshop-uk.info

I have a few leaflets which include an application form too. You son or daughter can collect one from me if you are interested.

Yours sincerely

Nick Waters
